MODERN ROUND PORT WINDOW MAINTAINS A CLASSIC LOOK

A round port window has been used as an icon and a symbol of boating for years. To preserve this classic marine look, port window manufacturer New Found Metals has just added a modern, 12"-round opening port to its line.

The new 12" window has a 316 stainless body and features 8.5-mm laminated and tempered glass. The port's EDPM gasket ensures leak proof performance—in fact, the gasket is covered by a 10-year guarantee. The window is available with standard 1-1/2" or extended 2" spigots.

Thanks to spring-loaded cam dogs, the window can be quickly opened or closed with minimum effort. Both the cam dog and the upper hinge posts are adjustable to provide a tight seal between the port and window frame.

Retail price of New Found Metal's new 12" round port with standard spigots is $425.95. The extended-spigot model is $449.95.
